“Ray Wilson ZDF@Bauhaus” - live 14 Track DVD/CD/Blu-Ray

20 years ago Ray co wrote, and recorded the last Genesis studio album “Calling All Stations” which reached Number 2 in both the German and UK Charts. The album was supported by a 46 date European Tour, including two headliner shows at “Rock im Park” and “Rock am Ring”.

Ray’s most recent live album, “Time And Distance”, featured some of the great tracks from “Calling All Stations” and included other Genesis songs which Ray performed throughout the 1998 European Tour.

Ray's solo career started in 2002 when Ray, accompanied by his brother Steve and female vocalist Amanda Lyon, performed 12 sold out acoustic shows at Edinburgh International Festival. During these 2 hour shows, Ray performed songs from his debut solo album, “Change”. As the “Change” album effectively only covered 50 minutes of the show, Ray also performed acoustic arrangements of classic songs from Genesis, Phil Collins, Peter Gabriel, Mike Rutherford and Stiltskin, including the Number 1 hit “Inside”.

This was the beginning of a gradual success and a very satisfying career for Ray, as he was also able to keep control of his own destiny, something he vowed to do after his time with Stiltskin and Genesis. The goal was to slowly build his name by endless touring and regular releases, year on year.

“Ray Wilson ZDF@Bauhaus” is a new live 14 Track DVD/CD, with Ray's first ever Blu-Ray option also available. It was recorded in 2018, in Dessau at the legendary Bauhaus. The concert has a more MTV unplugged feel about it, with an intimate atmosphere favoured by many of Ray's fans with some favourites including “Take It Slow”, “Alone”, “Lemon Yellow Sun” and a great old track from Ray's brother Steve called “Along The Way”. There are also a few gems from the World of Genesis including “No Son of Mine”, “Mama”, “Follow You Follow Me” and a brilliant rendition of the Peter Gabriel classic “Solsbury Hill”.

Ray was accompanied by a 7 piece band on these shows.
